" NOT IN THIS CONTEST."

Mr. Blaine Says There Is Not the Remotes Possibility of His Nomination.

[SPECIAL CARLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] EDINBURGH, June 25.-Mr. Blaine left here at 2.30 to-day for Linlithgow. He has not heard one word to-day from Chicago. To Consul Walling, who made a formal call on him last evening, he said, in answer to a polife inquiry, "I am not in this contest in any way. There is not the remotest possibility of my being nominated."

T. C. CRAWFORD.

THE CONVENTION'S SIXTH DAY.

Graphic Account of the Work Done a Chicago To-Day.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, CRICAGO, June 25. - There was a big representation of ladies in the convention this morning, and their gay costumes made the hall look more brilliant than it has at any time since the convention began.

A HARRISON FAN IN THE GALLERY. There was order, too, for the period of shouting and sheer noise has passed. Interest in the question of the hour is at too high a tension to find relief in the waving of flags or shouting the names and slogans of candidates. ates. Every seat in the hall was taken, save three or four in the New York delegation, and at 11 o'clock promptly Chairman Estee, who has regained his voice, called the convention After prayer was offered the band played 'Nearer, My God, to Thee," and the business began.

When Mr. Boutelle arose to read the message from Mr. Blaine the convention broke out into chers and loud cries of "Platform,"

"Platform."

The audience plainly understood his mission. His elegant reference to the devotion.

sion. His eloquent reference to the devotion of the Maine delegation to Mr. Blaine called for renewed cheers. His introduction was brief and feeling. These were the despatches he read :

EDINBURGH, June 24. To Boutelle and Maniey, Maine Delegation, Chicago. Earnestly request all friends to respect my Paris (Signed.)

I think I have a right to ask my friends to respect my wishes, and refrain from voting for me.
Please make this and former despatch from me public promptly. JAMES G. BLAINE.

pablic prompily.

(Signed.)

Brief applause followed the reading of each despatch, but it was evident that the effect had been discounted, and few persons vere greatly surprised. There were no expressions of disapproval.

In spite of these despatches just read, the vote recorded, that of Alabama, contained one for James G. Blaine. The next moment California took the convention by surprise by casting her vote solidly for Blaine. When that was announced there was great applause; but the expected stampede did not come.

The other States showed little disposition to change their vote of Saturday.

Fred Grant and his wife laughed heartily at Georgia's one vote for him, and the friends sitting about him chaffed him terribly about it.

The three votes of Kansas for Blaine started a little cheer, and McKinley's first cheer from Kentucky and his second from Maine trom Maine also induced a little cheer
The convention noted the wide-scattering of Maine's vote with considerable amusement, taking it as the result of the Biaine despatches.

As the roll proceeded, Alger's gaining strength in the Western and Southern States began to attract attention, but when Mr. Depew announced New York's 72 votes for strength in the Western and Southern States began to attract attention, but when Mr. Depew announced New York's 72 votes for Gen. Harrison, the Indiana yell rose above in the state of the state of the state of Gen. Harrison, the Indiana yell rose above in the state of the state of Gen. Harrison, the Indiana yell rose above in the state of the solidity for Sherman excited great surprise, as it had been understood that the delegation was about to broak away from the Sherman allegiance. When the vote was challenged and the 'poll demanded it appeared that there had been a little break, after which the delegate who demanded the poll voted for Harrison, while the Indiana delegation raised the roof again.

At Blaine's gain of four in Tennessee the galleries broke out with a demonstration, but the Chairman quickly rapped them down, a little fun was extracted out of the proceedings when Virginia was reached and Mr. Wise made the announcement that ten of the delegation had refused to give him their votes. This was the old Wise-Mahone quarrel coming up again in a new shape. The convention laughed a Mahone man off his feet when he tried to explain the beyish quarrel, and the poll of the State had to be gons through with again.

Utmest silence greeted the reading of the totals.

Colerado—Harrison, v. A wive the state of the colerado Harrison with the sudience were greatly disappointed that New York's solid accession did not make a bigger figure in the Gressa v. Georgia—Gresham, 1; Alger, 8: Sherman, 0; Last ballot. There was not enough change in the other votes to cause any enthusiasm.

on this ballot was the one vote that longbearded, eccentric Creed Haymond, of California, got from Texas. There was a big laugh over that.

The result of the ballot disappointed the expectation of a nomination.

Just before the vote was announced Chairmen Henderson, of Iowa, representing Allison, and Quay, of Pennsylvania, for Sherman, came up to Mr. Depew and Tom Platt, and had an earnest consultation with them.

MR. BLAINE CABLES TO HIS FRIENDS. Blaine Is Out!" Now the Cry at Chicago The Situation This Morning.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 CHICAGO, June 25.—The chief plotters in the Blaine or Bust movement were in conferthe Blaine or Bust movement were in conference until after 1 o'clock this morning. Nearly every State and Territory was represented, and among the more prominent friends of the Plumed Knight who were present were: B. F. Jones, Chairman of the National Committee: Stephen B. Elkins, Powell Clayton, of Arkansas; Joseph Manley, of Maine: ex-Gov. Warmoth, of Louisiana; S. B. Fessenden, of Connecticut; Creed Haymond, of California; Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, and about fifty others. Mr. Depew was asked to attend, but begged to be excused.

but begged to be excused.

The conference was an exciting one, owing to many differences of opinion, and at one time came nigh breaking up in confusion. The red-hot Blaineites wanted to adopt a rule-or-ruin policy, and appeared determined to force the convention on reassembling to-day into a Blaine and anti-Blaine fight. The cooler he ads advocated the appointment of a sub-committee to decide what was best to be done in Mr. Blaine's interest, with power to spring his name upon the convention at any done in Mr. Blaine's interest, with power to spring his name upon the convention at any time they thought proper.

This suggestion was approved, and Creed Haynond, of California. Chairman; Samuel Fessenden, of Connecticut; Powell Clayton, of Arkansas; H. Burden, of Massachusetts; Charles Emory Smith, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. Maney, of Tennessee, were named as the sub-committee. The committee was instructed to report this morning at 9.30.

A meeting of the committee was held after the adjournment, at which canvassers were appointed to poll carefully each delegation, and get the name of every Blaine supporter. The canvassers started out at 1 o'clock this morning. Many delegates were pulled out of their beds.

MR. ELKINS EXPLAINS MR. BLAINE'S POSITION.

Stephen S. Elkins this morning makes the following statement about last night's conerence:

"I want what I say to go to the country as
"I want what I say to go to the leading "I want what I say to go to the country as the unqualitied sentiment of the leading friends of Mr. Blaine There has been much misunderstanding in the matter, both by the public and those who represent the public in this convention. Mr. Blaine is not a candidate before the convention unless by and with the consent of at least four of the leading candidates now before it. He will not be placed in nomination under any circumstances and his friends trust that his friends in the convention will refrain from voting for him until every, other man has had an opporuntil every, other man has had an oppor-him until every, other man has had an opportunity for the nomination.

"I said we want at least four of the Presidential candidates to relinquish whatever claims they may have upon the convention and make Mr. Blaine their candidate as nearly unanimously as possible. His Maine friends, led by Congressman Boutelle and Mr. Manley, will insist on this, and they are supported by every clear-heades, honest friend of Mr. Blaine. Of course there are a few hotheads here as there are everywhere, and they are attempting to force things, but such a move will be deprecated by those who understand Mr. Blaine's relation to this convention in view of his letters.

MISCOCK IN THE CHAIR.

"The chief reason for the caucus last night was to obviate anything which might look as if his name was being forced upon the convention. At this meeting the Maine delegates I have mentioned strove long and sarnestly to avoid any rash or foolish action on the part of basty triends, and then I was called in, together with several others who are not delegates, and therefore had no right in the cancus, n the canous.

TO OFFORE A STAMPEDE.

To oppose a stampede.

"I can now say to you that there will be no stampeding. The other candidates must have their day in the convention, and then, if there is no pomination and the representatives of at least four candidates conclude that Mr. Dising is the only solution to the difference of at least four candidates conclude that Mr. Dising is the only solution to the other man, they can nominate him, and I have no doubt he will accept it.

"But we must have it practically unanimous or we will not listen to it. At any rate, we are intent on holding down those whose blind fidelity to Mr. Dising wealth make it appear that he wished is obtain the somination by antagonising the other candidates."

Thors are all sorts of sympes about the intention of the Righte or Susters. The action of the Righte or Susters. The action of the sub-sempnittee is impastently awaited.

The anti-Blaine pecule appear deterpined to light the Blainefles to the last ditch, and if the war is carried into the convention the Sherman, Allicon, Harrison, Gresham and Alger elements will unite to stop the Blaine cyclone. Then the convention would resolve itself into a Blaine and anti-Blaine convention. Peace.

announced the first break in that delegation and cast the State's vote for Harrison there was mingled applause and hisses. The 16 votes could not be delivered on the poll, one delegate refusing to vote. Still it looked like the beginning of a stampede.

Harrison's gain of three in Florida, in a moment or two, strengthened the expectation and it looked more than ever like Harrison when Kansas gave him a gain of 6 and Kentucky a gain of 3. Maine gave him one and Maryland 3, over the last ballot and expectation of Harrison's success rose higher and higher. His gain of 4 in Massachusetts gave it another boost and Minnesota another. The galleries began to look excited and expectant, and gave New York a cheer for a starter.

The demand of the poll of Penusylvania showed the vote Sherman 52, Harrison 3, instead of Sherman 57, Harrison 3, as Chairman Quay announced, and the break gave the galleries another bit of happiness.

A CABLE MESSAGE FROM MR. BLAINE. Mr. Joseph Manley said a few minutes ago:
"We have received a cablegram from Mr.

as expressed in his last letter from Paris. He will not be nominated unless the other candidates withdraw. The Maine delegates are now in session, and they are very much disheartened."

how in session, and they are very much the heartened."

"Blaine is out," is the cry that is heard in the corridors at 11.30 New York time. Every one is asking: "What will be the next move of Mr. Blaine's friends?" A Maine delegate was heard to say :
''We will have to begin all over again."

THE MESSAGE ME. BLAINE SENT. Powell-Clayton, one of the Blaine chiefains, says :

tains, says:
"Congressman Boutelle received the cablegrain from Mr. Blaine. It was dated at Edinburgh yesterday. It was read to the sub-committee in charge of Mr. Blaine's campaign this morning. The text was as follows: 'I think I have a right to request my friends to respect my letters'"

CONFUSION AMONG THE BLAINE OR BUSTERS. This cablegram has thrown the Blaine or Busters into confusion. They are all at sea and may become demoralized. Their con-ference committees have met and adjourned o the call of their Chairman

The New York delegates have decided to cast 72 solid votes for Harrison. They met at 10 o'clock and were in session only a few moments. Mr. Depew presided. He spoke in favor of the delegation acting as a unit. Senator Hiscock said that the delegation should stand by Harrison. A roll-call was ordered. Every delegate named Harrison as his choice. Harrison as his choice. All the Blaine peo-ple voted for Harrison. Mr. Sherman's name was not mentioned. This action is binding until the delegation hold another meeting.

CALLS THE CABLEGRAM A FORGERY. At the conference of the Blaineites this morning Mr. Michael De Young, of San Francisco, challenged Boutelle, Manley and Francisco, challenged Boutelle, Manley and Clayton to produce any cablegram from Mr. Blaine stating 'that he would absolutely refuse the nomination.

They did not do so, and Mr. De Young announced that the Californians would continue to vote for James G. Blaine, Mr. De Young also said that in his opinion certain alleged cablegrams from Blaine were forcarias.

Billy Gordon, of Many Allases, Tracked by Inspector Byrnes's Men.

The daring robber of J. L. Ritter's jewelry store, No. 252 Washington street, Hoboken, has been arrested, and proves to be one of the cleverest sneak thieves in the profession. He is William Gordon, alias Billy Gardner, alias Billy Harris, an ex-convict. He entered Ritter's store two months ago in company with Edward McGee, now in custody, and rified a showcase of a handful of valuable Young Arthur Ritter seized McGee and held him until a policemen arrived. Gordon was seized by the elder Ritter, but he dealt the old man a stupning blow and made his

He became a Spiritualism nearly thirty years. He became a Spiritualism in 1852, after the first manifestation at Hydesville.

Mr. Bowen said that the article published in the Brooklyn paper denounced all Spiritual mediums and proposed that spiritual mediumship should be made a penal offense. It desired the enactment of a law which would imprison all who made claim to intercourse with the spiritual world. A law of that kind, Mr. Bowen said, would imprison Moses, Abraham, all the Jewish prophets and Jesus and his prophets, were they now living, for each and his prophets, were they now living, for each and his prophets, were they now living, for each and his prophets, were they now living, for each and that they one of the melantic of the correct the evil. But the newspaper article in question did not discriminate, but denounced all spirit mediums. Taken as a whole, he said, it was a malicious and brutal stander upon some of the best and most exemplary men and women in the community. The secular press generally was bitterly hostile to Spiritualism, largely through ignorance of the subject. But this ignorance and stupidity were inexcussable on the part of the writer of that slanderous article, when every means of investigation was open to him. A LURID FIRE.

It Adds Its Terrors to the Oppressive

First Avenue's Fierce and Threatening Blaze.

The Cigar Factories of Foster & Hillson and of Lichtenstein Brothers Visited by Great Flames-Panic-Stricken Employees Fill the Fire-Escapes and Stairways-Failure of the Water Supply Threatens the Neighborhood with Destruction-Tenants Hurriedly Move Out of Endan gered Houses.

Three slarms were sent out in rapid sucession this morning for a fire which was discovered at about 9,20 o'clock in the five-story brick block with mansard roof, extending from Thirty-eighth to Thirty-ninth streets in ings, a third of whom were girls, and the fright and excitement among these people was terrible to witness.

First avenue. The buildings were occupied by the cigar making firms of Lichtenstein Brothers and Foster & Hillson.

women and girls in Foster & Hillson's factory, which is situated on the southwest corner of First avenue and althirty-minth street. James Martin, the young man in charge of the elevator, discovered the fire on the upper floor, which is used as a packing-room.

Situated in a peculiarly dangerous district, with large tenement-houses all around it and big gas tanks in its immediate neighborhood, the fire early aroused a panic among the people, and hurried preparations were begun for removal from the tenements. At Fortieth street and First avenue are located the gas works in which the fatal explosion of last November occurred.

The fire got a most advantageous start, and although the firemen responded promptly to the alarms, they found a discouraging piece of work cut out for them when they arrived at the scene.

Inside the high walls of the building there was a seething wass of flame, the fierce heat from which, added to the extreme torridity of the day, made life and work almost unbearable in the vicinity.

Streams of water from the engines and a deluge from the water tower fell into the mass of flames almost without visible effect. At 10 c'clock half of the front wall fell infrom Thirty-ninth street down, and as the ruins toppied over and crashed down there was a great upshoot of flame and sparks, which seemed to threaten destruction for everything in the neighborhood.

Bravely and unflinchingly the firemen worked in the almost crematory temperature.

THE WATER SUPPLY PAILS.

were added very soon the failure of the water supply.

Chief Shay sent out the signal for an increase in the water nead, but it was of no avail. The streams could not be forced even to the fourth floor of the burning structure.

structure.
Originating in the Foote & Hillson factory, the flames spread to Lichtenstein Brothers manufactory in the Thirty-eighth street end of the block, and that, too, was speedily in-their hold and dropping to the pavement a hundred feet below.

By almost a miracle the hundreds of employees escaped without the loss of a life.

At 11 o'clock the fire had practically burned itself out in the factories, so rapidly had it consumed its light food, and the efforts towards saving surrounding buildings having been successful, the blaze was pronounced under control.

Tenements and blocks in all directions had received assure scorebings and their intereceived severe scorchings, and their inte-riors were heated like ovens, but all were still standing.

The burned building was owned by George Ehret, the brewer.
Estimates very carefully made put the total loss at $2.00,000.
While Chief Shay was on the roof of the building a tongue of flame with a sudden leap robbed him of a portion of his mustache and burned his face.
John Welsh, of Engine 8, was overcome by the heat, but revived when taken away.

[BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] BERLIN, June 25.—The Emperor opened the Riechstag in person this morning. The speech from the throne dwells throughout on the pacific feeling of Germany, whose sole policy is one of defence and a sincere desire for peace with all the European yowers. The speech adheres firmly to the principle that alliance with Austria is the basis of European equilibrium, and maintains that similar needs unite the interests of Germany and Italy. The political conditions and geographical arrangements of these States both permit and render expedient the careful cultivation
